You could draw or paint one ,or perhaps create a stick puppet or make one from a toilet roll .Maybe you could create a collection of monster pebbles? Have a look at the Monster Art sheet for some ideas. Monster Party Imagine you are hosting a party for a group of monsters. Think about where you would hold the event. Would it be in a cave, a swamp, on top of a mountain? What food might you give them? Spider jelly? Slime ice-cream? Slug cakes? What activities/games could they play? Musical monster bumps or statues? Design an invitation/flyer either by hand or using ICT to give the monsters as much information as possible about the event.	Joe Wicks Keep training with the fitness guru. How long can you do the plank for? Monster Moves Join the Koo Koo Kanga Roo on You Tube for some fun dance moves. https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=teRZ8o11AQg Ping Pong Challenge This kept my son occupied for hours! Take four pans, 1 cup and 1 ping pong ball. Arrange the pans so that you bounce a ping pong ball off the first pan and it then continues to bounce off each pan and into the cup. You can watch an example of this on You Tube. Type in Pots and Pan Pong: Mother and Son Land Trick. It took my son 55 minutes to do. Can you beat that time?
